BLESSINGS

CEO & PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Counting our blessings is important. It shows gratitude, appreciation, and thanks. In our faith, we are taught to count our blessings rather than focus on the negatives. At Boysville, we make an effort to appreciate the good things in our lives and on our campus. We are truly blessed to care for children in need.

As many providers closed their doors, we opened ours to pregnant and parenting teens and children without placement due to high acuity needs. Despite the ups and downs of COVID, we had a wonderful year celebrating our children's successes.

In 2021, we provided care to over 300 children through our continuum of services. Our programs – Emergency Shelter, Residential, Foster Care/Foster to Adopt, and Supervised Independent Living—gave

In 2021, Boysville answered the call to expand our services to care for more children in care.

hope, safety, and opportunities to children in care. We helped 12 children find their forever families. SPARK, our parenting education program, continued to enlighten, empower and educate parents and caregivers needing advice or better methods on how to be effective parents.

Throughout the year, our supporters continued to reach out and provide fun activities for our children on our campus. During the summer, our children enjoyed a sweet treat each week from a donor-sponsored ice cream truck. Several of our board of directors came together and hosted a birthday party and cookout. We enjoyed a day at a Mission baseball game and outings to Fiesta, Texas. These blessings brought joy and happiness to our children.

We are thankful to all who donate their time, talent, and treasure to give our children opportunities to succeed and grow. We look forward to seeing you in 2022.

MOMS IN TRAINING

Since 2015, Mariah, now 17, has had over 20 placements in the foster care system. A very sweet girl with a hard shell, she doesn't have much trust in the system or adults. But now, Mariah is six-months pregnant with no family, support or even a high school degree.

Roxanne Dylla, Director of the MinT (Moms in Training) program said reading Mariah's story was tough and she was uncertain if Boysville would be able to help her, but she wanted to try.

"When I interviewed Mariah for placement, I saw her internal struggle," said Roxanne. "I wanted to help her but I needed her to trust me." Mariah came to Boysville in November. She is doing well and will finish her high school degree in the spring. She is working on getting her driver's license. Most importantly, she is learning to trust the staff and communicate when she is feeling sad or worried.

With help from Valero Energy, Go, Inc., along with a private donor, Boysville expanded its services to include housing for pregnant and parenting teens and young adults in foster care. Unfortunately, Texas foster youth are more likely to become pregnant compared to other Texas teens, according to the Texas Institute for Child and Family Wellbeing at the University of Texas at Austin.

"I'm really proud of Mariah and all the work she has done," said Roxanne. "She is going to be a good mom and her future is looking good."

WAY TO GO CALEB!

Caleb was awarded the Baxter Family Fund scholarship for his outstanding transition into our SIL program. Caleb has found a great job at H-E-B and is working on getting his driver's license. Next up—College. The Baxter Family Fund was created by Lenna and Ed Baxter in honor of their late son, Stuart.

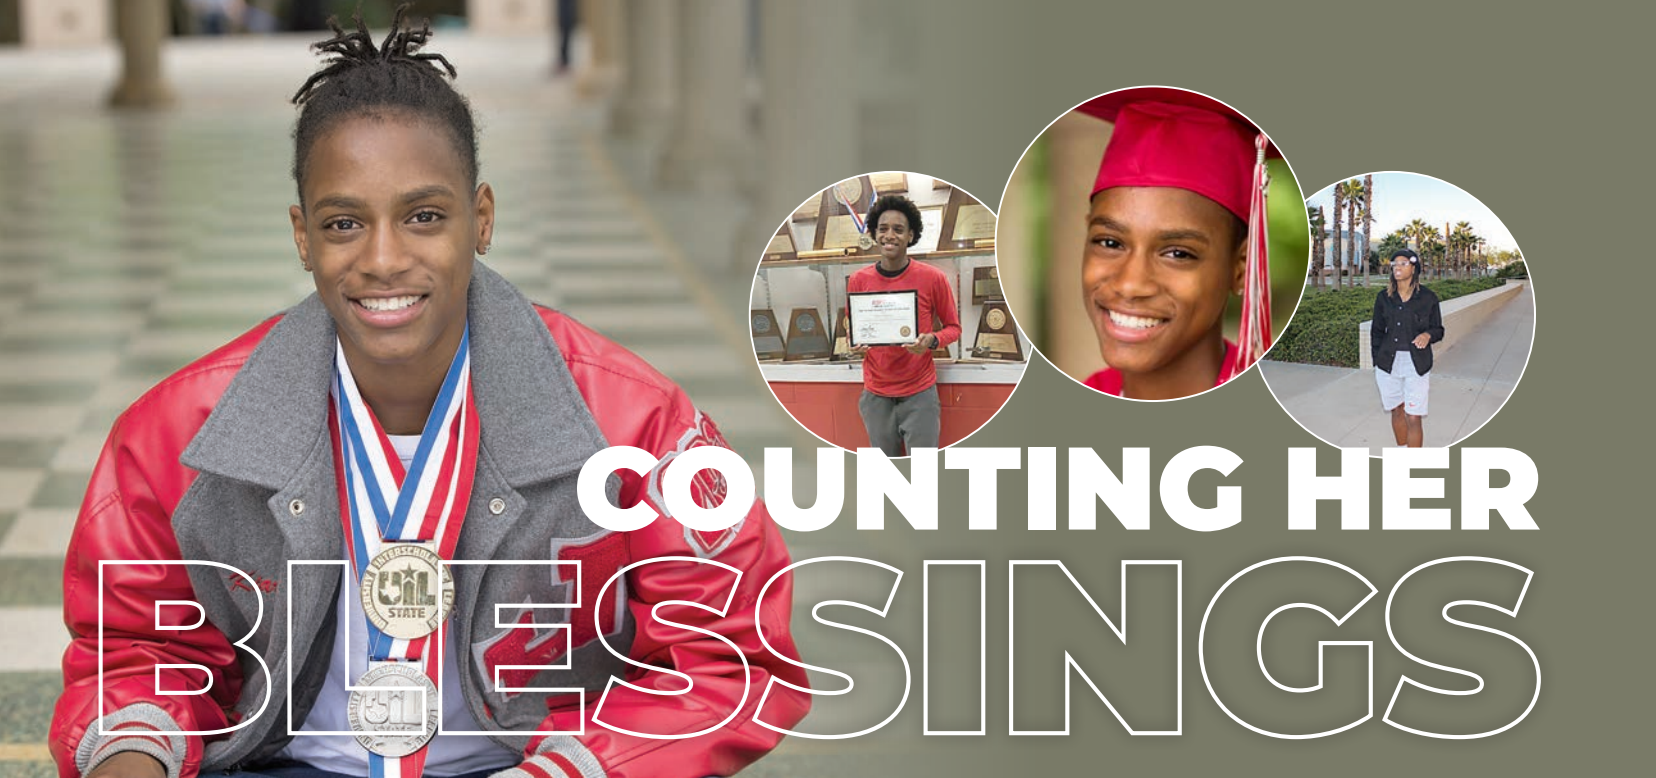

BOYSVILLE'S LEGACY SOCIETY

The Boysville Legacy Society honors the legacy of Reverend Don Holiman, founder of Boysville, and all of our benefactors who designate Boysville as a beneficiary of their will, charitable trust or other estate gift. A planned gift ensures Boysville's future while creating a lasting legacy for the donor. We want to express our gratitude to our supporters for believing in our children and our programs.

COUNTING HER BLESSINGS

At 22, Kiara is counting her blessings one by one.

She is a senior at Texas A&M Corpus Christi majoring in Media Production with a minor in Communications. She competes on the university track team as a long jumper and just added the triple jump to her lineup. She is also a budding musician and very popular influencer on Instagram and Tik Tok with over 300,000 combined followers.

“I’m just out here trying to adult,” Kiara says with a laugh. “I’m even hanging up my clothes and deep cleaning my apartment on Sundays.”

Kiara didn’t always have a bright outlook on her future. At age 12, Kiara and her siblings entered into foster care and arrived at Boysville together. Prior to coming to Boysville, her family struggled with housing and having enough food. She was amazed at the availability of food at any time. “We now had three meals and snacks every day.”

It was more than the available food that helped Kiara settle in at Boysville. “In the beginning, I thought I would just stick it out and wait to go home,” she said. Kiara moved into the residential program and that is where she realized that she could change her life for the better.

“At the time, I was only passing PE and Theatre Arts,” said Kiara. She credits the staff with teaching her to focus in school and setting goals. A natural athlete, Kiara excelled in soccer, basketball and track in high school. Eventually, she concentrated on track and was the youngest member of the championship 400 and 800 relay. Her personal best long jump of 19 feet, 3 ½ inches was a school record. She also excelled in her academics, was inducted in National Honor Society and graduated high school with honors.

Kiara received a partial scholarship to run track at the University of North Texas. With the help of the Hunter Church Fund, Kiara moved to Denton to pursue her dreams. Like many young people in their first year of college, her priorities shifted and she ended up on academic probation.

Kiara came home to Boysville and into the Supervised Independent Living Program, a program designed to help young adults aging out of foster care. Boysville’s SIL program is one of only nine in Texas that provides housing, financial assistance and case management.

“Coming back to the SIL program was the biggest blessing for me,” she said. “SIL taught me how to budget, cook and prioritize my goals. Boysville helped me in every aspect of getting my priorities straight.” Kiara also went to community college and brought her grades up. She received help from the Fred Terry Educational Fund to help her buy her first car.

“I don’t think I would have gone to college without Boysville.”

Now back on track, Kiara transferred to Texas A&M, Corpus Christi and became a walk-on on the track team. “I learned to be a student first before an athlete,” she said.

Kiara is set to graduate in Spring 2022. Her goals are to move to Houston and work on her music career in addition to trying to find a job in media production.

“I don’t think I would have gone to college without Boysville,” she said. “Boysville gave me many opportunities and blessings. I am grateful.”

TEMPORARY EMERGENCY PLACEMENT (TEP)

No child should have to sleep in an office while awaiting placement. For children with complex therapeutic needs, this is all too common. Unfortunately, many children who are removed from their homes are left in limbo as foster homes and residential placements have dwindled due to COVID and a shortage of placement options.

Boysville, in partnership with the State of Texas have designated Sien cottage as a temporary shelter for children with higher level needs waiting for a permanent placement. The cottage houses up to six children at a time and operates with a staff ratio of 1:4.
